TO BE SOLD,

A LEASE for seven years, from the 25th March next, in that capital and beautiful FARM, called

PROSPECT-HILL,

Situated within one quarter of a mile from the Brandywine Mills, and half a mile from the borough of Wilmington.

THE dwelling house is built of stone, two stories high, genteely finished, and contains four handsome rooms on a floor, besides an entry, with capital garrets, and convenient cellars. It is generally thought to command the most agreeable prospect of the Delaware, from the source of that river to the Capes. This prospect is greatly embellished by a full view of a vast body of meadow, through which the Christiana and Brandywine creeks are seen winding in beautiful meanders. Near the house are a Kitchen, a spacious stone stable and hay loft, a barn, a carriage house, milk-house, &c. and a well of as pure water as any on the continent. The garden contains an acre and quarter of land, abounding with fruit, and particularly with peach trees, of the very best kind, brought from Maryland, and in full bearing. There is, moreover, on the place, a young, apple orchard begining to bear, and several old trees that produce abundantly, besides cherry and other ornamental trees, in great numbers. The farm consists of near sixty acres of land, of good quality, and clear of incumbrances, except taxes, twenty of which are now in excellent clover and timothy, and ten more will be ready for sowing next spring. A residence of nearly 8 years has convinced the subscriber that the situation is remarkably healthy. The great post road from Philadelphia to the Southward runs within seventy yards of the house. In a word, the beauties and convenience of this situation cannot be enumerated in an advertisement, and when examined, will probably command the attention of any person who is desirous of living at one of the most elegant country seats on the continent. The purchaser may enter on the premises next spring, or perhaps, this fall, if application be immediately made to Doctor NICHOLAS WAY, in Philadelphia, to Doctor WHARTON, on the premises, or, in his absence, to Mr. GEORGE TRUITT, in Wilmington.

A quantity of excellent Hay, Grain in the ground, some Stock, &c. may be had by the purchaser at the time of sale.

For the GAZETTE OF THE UNITED STATES.

Mr. FENNO,

I HAVE by accident ſeen a Trenton paper, in which is contained an addreſs of general Lawrence, to the militia of Monmouth. The excellent and truly federal ſentiments of which, have induced me to requeſt you will give it a place in your paper.—It is always of conſequence (and particularly at this time) to be able to give ſo pleaſing a proof of the attachment of our fellow citizens, more particularly of the militia, who are properly ſtyled the bulwark of our nation, to our federal conſtitution. It is alſo worthy of remark, that the ſentiments contained in general Lawrence's addreſs, we have reaſon to believe, are congenial with thoſe of the legiſlature of New-Jerſey; ſhortly after they were delivered we find him choſen by that body as an elector of Preſident and Vice-Preſident of the United States.

A SUBSCRIBER.

Philadelphia, Dec. 8, 1796.

To the officers and ſoldiers of the Monmouth brigade.

Gentlemen and Fellow-Citizens,

I have now the honour to depoſit in your hands, the colours of the Monmouth brigage. Receive them as the ſymbol of your freedom and ndependence, and as the purchaſe of much blood and treaſure. A juſt eſtimate of the one, will induce the right value of the other. The depoſit of colours in the hands of a ſoldier, is at all times a ſacred charge, but more eſpecially ſo in a government like that under which it is our happineſs to live.—Conſecrate them as the ſtandard around which you will rally in the juſt defence of your liberties, civil and religious, and as the ſtandard to which you will march in ſupport of order and government, the conſtituted authorities, and the conſtitutions of our country. In cauſes like theſe may you be ever ready to unfurl them—and may they always wave in triumph and ſucceſs; but may they never wave in approbation of diſcord, anarchy and faction.—Theſe are wiſhes and ſentiments indelibly engraven in my breaſt; and under the ſame banners, and for the performance thereof on my part, and for the accompliſhment of whatever will conduce to your fame, honour and proſperity, gentlemen, as far as my individual exertions will go, I pledge you my honour.

ELISHA LAWRENCE,
B. G. Monmouth Brigade.

To this addreſs, the following anſwer was returned by the officers and ſoldiers of the brigade.

Brigadier-general ELISHA LAWRENCE.

SIR,

The officers and ſoldiers of the Monmouth brigade have the honor to acknowledge the favor of your addreſs of this date, and the depoſit in their hands of the colours of the brigade; they concur in ſentiment, that the depoſit of colours in the hands of a ſoldier is on all occaſions an important charge—and that the importance of the charge is greatly augmented in a government like that in which it is our happineſs to live—the colours are received as becomes the characters of citizens and ſoldiers—and as it will be our duty, as well as our intereſt, ſo we truſt it will be performed, to conſecrate them as the ſtandard around which we will rally in the juſt defence of our civil and religious liberties—and in ſupport of order, the conſtituted authorities, and the wholeſome conſtitutions of our country. We unite in the deſire, that they will never wave in approbation of diſcord and faction, and their inſeparable attendant, anarchy. And a hope is indulged, that the well earned fame and reputation of the militia of New-Jerſey, will never be tarniſhed by the conduct of the officers and ſoldiers of the Monmouth brigade.

We congratulate ourſelves, ſir, in your appointment as brigadier-general of the brigade, and very ſincerely do we reciprocate the good wiſhes contained in your addreſs—and cheerfully engage to unite our beſt endeavors with yours, to advance and ſecure the true intereſts of the brigade.

Monmouth, Oct. 7, 1796.

Mr. CLARKE's ADDRESS.

Gentlemen and fellow ſoldiers,

Invited by your ſuffrages, I cheerfully accept the honor of addreſſing you on this occaſion.

The character of a ſoldier, is both important and dignified—Soldiers ſtand the bulwark of a nation—their great object ever is to defend their country's rights—to avenge their country's wrongs—and often have they been employed by the great Ruler of the Univerſe, to chaſtize the perfidy of guilty oppreſſing nations. Never can they conſiſtently with the dignity of ſoldiers, unſheath the ſword, till the cleareſt juſtice, the moſt evident neceſſity, and an unequivocal legitimate authority conſpire to iſſue the ſolemn mandate.

With what caution then ſhould a ſoldier draw the ſword! but when once liſted, with what intrepidity and firmneſs ſhould he uſe it! Gentlemen, if your country is invaded by a foreign foe; if faction, nouriſhed in its boſom, attempt to proſtrate its government, its conſtituted authorities, and its laws, to you as ſoldiers will the appeal be made. In ſuch awful moments, to you will your country turn their eyes—from you they will have a right to demand the moſt prompt and deciſive aid. And what ſoldier, that feels the patriotic glow of love to his country, would heſitate for a moment to ſtand forth in its defence! But, fellow-ſoldiers, in vain will your country look for your aid, if in the hour of danger, you are found unqualified for her defence. Permit me therefore to recommend to your attention as ſoldiers, the following things—

1. Let your dreſs and equipments, be as becomes military men—when a ſoldier preſents himſelf on the field as his country's guardian, he ſhould feel a noble emulation, ſhould riſe above the meanneſs of a ſordid ſlovenly attire—a decent military uniform inſpires the ſoldier with confidence, procures him reſpect, prompts him to aim at dignified ſoldierly conduct, and in the day of danger, ſtrikes terror into his enemy—I am perſuaded there is not an officer or ſoldier on the field this day, properly accoutred, but is emulous to behave well; he ſcorns to diſgrace his dreſs and his arms; to ſink, in his conduct, below that character his dreſs beſpeaks.

2. Let every ſoldier be diligent to improve in military tactics—ineffectual will be your beſt wiſhes to ſerve your country as ſoldiers, if unſkilled in diſcipline, you ruſh an untutored rabble into the field for her defence. As generous patriots you might laviſh your blood; but ignorant and unſkilled in the military art you would yield but feeble aid to your country. The neceſſary infrequency of your military parades ſhould make every ſoldier the more diligent to improve when the occaſion offers.

3. Accuſtom yourſelves to revere authority, and cheerfully to ſubmit to military ſubordination—a moments reflection will convince every man that, without ſubordination, and a prompt obedience to the orders of ſuperiors, an army becomes not only uſeleſs but dangerous to a country—ſubordination is a principle ſo eſſential to a good ſoldier, ſo indiſpenſible to an army that exiſts only for its country's good, that every patriotic ſoldier will glory in cheriſhing and obſerving it.

Permit me, gentlemen and fellow ſoldiers, to cloſe this addreſs by ſolemnly urging you to be the firm decided friends of virtue and religion—if you fail in this you cannot be the real friends of your country's happineſs and proſperity—if this our highly favoured country becomes regardleſs of religion, and abandoned to vice, her glory will depart, her proſperity will be at the end—"Righteouſneſs exalteth a nation; but ſin is the reproach, and will finally be the ruin of any people."

Sunk in infidelity and licentiouſneſs, when the meaſure of our iniquities is full, the hand of a juſt God will baffle all our efforts to ſave—in vain will the warrior draw his ſword in defence of that country whoſe crying abominations have conſtrained a righteous God to come forth for its deſtruction! May the merciful Sovereign of the Univerſe protect our country, be a glory in the midſt of us, and a wall of fire round about us.

From an Engliſh Paper.

STATE OF CRIMES IN THE METROPOLIS.

The following ſtatement is taken from a Treatiſe on the Police, by a reſpectable Magiſtrate.

Liſt of perſons who are ſuppoſed to ſupport themſelves in and near the Metropolis by purſuits either criminal, illegal, or immoral.

1. Profeſſed thieves, burglars, highway robbers, pick-pockets and river pirates who are completely proſelyted, many of whom have finiſhed their education in the hulks, and ſome at Botany Bay.	2000
2. Profeſſed and known receivers of ſtolen goods, of whom eight or ten are opulent.	60
3. Coiners, colourers, dealers, venders, buyers and utterers of baſe money, including counterfeit, foreign and Eaſt-India coin.	3000
4. Thieves, pilferers, and embezzlers, who live partly by depredation, and partly by their own occaſional labour.	8000
5. River pilferers, viz. fraudulent lumpers, ſcuffle-hunters, mud-larks, lightermen, riggers, artificers and labourers in the docks and arſenals.	2500
6. Itinerant Jews wandering from ſtreet to ſtreet, holding out temptations to pilfer and ſteal; and Jew boys crying "bad ſhillings," who purchaſe articles ſtolen by ſervants, ſtable-boys &c. generally paying in baſe money.	2000
7. Receivers of ſtolen goods from petty pilferers, at old iron-ſhops, ſtore-ſhops, rag and thrum ſhops, and ſhops for ſecond-hand apparel, including ſome fraudulent hoſtlers, ſmall butchers and pawn-brokers.	4000
8. A claſs of ſuſpicious characters, who live partly by pilfering and paſſing baſe money—oſtenſibly cuſtard mongers, aſs-drivers, duſtmen, rabbit-ſellers, flaſh coachmen, bear baiters, dog-keepers—but in fact dog ſtealers, &c.	1000
9. Perſons in the character of menial ſervants, journeymen, warehouſe porters, and under-clerks, who are entruſted with property, and who defraud their employers in a little way, under circumſtances where they generally elude detection, eſtimated at about	3500
10. A claſs of ſwindlers, cheats, and low gamblers, who are compoſed of idle and diſſolute characters, who have abandoned every honeſt purſuit, and who live chiefly by fraudulent tranſactions in the lottery, as morocco-men, ruffians, bludgeon-men, clerks, and aſſiſtants during the ſeaſon, who at other times aſſume the trade of puffers, hawkers, and pedlars, horſe-dealers, gamblers with E. O. tables at fairs, utterers of baſe money, horſe-ſtealers, &c.	7440
11. Various other claſſes of cheats not included in the above, but deſcribed in the body of the work.	1000
12. Fraudulent and diſſolute publicans, who are connected with criminal people, & who, to accommodate their companions in iniquity, allow their houſes to be a rendezvous for thieves, ſwindlers, and dealers in baſe money.	1000
13. A claſs of inferior officers belonging to the cuſtoms and exciſe, including what are called ſupernumeraries and gluttmen, many of whom connive at pillage as well as frauds committed on the revenue, and ſhare in the plunder to a very conſiderable extent, principally from their inability to ſupport themſelves on the pittance allowed them in the name of ſalary.	1000
14. A numerous claſs of perſons who keep chandler's ſhops for the ſale of proviſions, tea, and other neceſſaries to the poor—the total number is eſtimated at ten thouſand in the metropolis, a certain proportion of whom, as well as ſmall butchers and others, are known to cheat their cuſtomers (eſpecially thoſe to whom they give a little credit) by falſe weights, for which, excepting in the pariſh of Marybone, there is no proper check.	1000
15. Servants male and female, porters, hoſtlers, ſtable boys, and poſt boys, &c. out of place, principally from ill behavior and loſs of character, whoſe means of living muſt excite ſuſpicion—at all times about	10,000
19. Perſons called Blacklegs, and others proſelyted to the paſſion of gaming, or purſuing it as a trade, who are in the conſtant habit of frequenting houſes opened for the expreſs purpoſe of play, of which there are at leaſt 40 in Weſtminſter, where Pharo Banks are kept, Hazard, Rouge & Noir, &c. are introduced. Of theſe, five are kept in the houſes of ladies of faſhion, who are ſaid to receive fifty pounds each rout, beſides one eighth of the profits; ſeven are ſubſcription houſes; five have cuſtomers particularly attached to them, and thirteen admit foreigners, and every idle and diſſolute character, who are either introduced or known to belong to the fraternity of gamblers, where a ſupper and wines are always provided by the proprietors of the houſe for the entertainment of their cuſtomers	200
17. Spendthrifts, rakes, giddy youngmen, inexperienced and in the purſuit of criminal pleaſure, profligate, looſe, and diſſolute characters, vitiating themſelves and in the daily practice of ſeducing others to intemperance, lewdneſs, debauchery, gambling and exceſs eſtimated at	3000
18. Foreigners, who live chiefly by gambling	500
19. Bawds who keep houſes of ill-fame, brothels, and lodging houſes for proſtitutes	2000
20. Unfortunate females of all deſcriptions, who ſupport themſelves chiefly or wholly by proſtitution	50,000
21. Strangers out of work who have wandered up to London in ſearch of employment, and without recommendation, generally in conſequence of ſome miſdemeanour committed in the country, at all times above	1000
22. Strolling minſtrels, ballad ſingers, ſhowmen, trumpeters, and gypſies	1500
23. Grubbers, gin-drinkers, diſſolute women, and deſtitute boys and girls, wandering and prowling about in the ſtreets and bye-places after chips, nails, old metals, broken glaſs, paper, twine, &c. who are conſtantly on the watch to pilfer when an opportunity offers	2000
24. Common beggars and vagrants aſking alms, ſuppoſing one to every two ſtreets	3000
Total	115,000

FOR SALE,

A very Valuable Eſtate,

CALLED TWITTENHAM, ſituate in the townſhip of Upper Derby, and county of Delaware, 7 1-2 miles from Philadelphia, and half a mile from the new Weſtern road; containing 230 acres of excellent land, 45 of which are good watered meadow, 90 of prime woodland, and the reſt arable of the firſt quality. There are on the premiſes a good two ſtory brick houſe, with 4 rooms on a floor, and cellars under the whole, with a pump-well of excellent water in front; a large frame barn, ſtables, and other convenient buildings; a ſmoke-houſe and ſtone ſpring-houſe; two good apple orchards, and one of peaches. The fields are all in clover, except thoſe immediately under tillage, and are ſo laid out as to have the advantage of water in each of them, which renders it peculiarly convenient for grazing.

The ſituation is pleaſant and healthy, and from the high cultivation of the land, the good neighbourhood, and the vicinity to the city, it is very ſuitable for a gentleman's country ſeat.

The foregoing is part of the eſtate of Jacob Harman, deceaſed, and offered for ſale by

Mordecai Lewis,
Oct. 31. 12aw Surviving Executor.

FOR SALE,

A valuable PLANTATION,

IN Frederick County, Virginia, bounding nearly three miles on the river Shenandoah, between Aſhby's Gap and Snicker's Ferry; 66 miles from Alexandria, and the like diſtance from the Federal City. It contains 1076 acres, 600 of which are cleared, the reſidue finely timbered; the whole Limeſtone or River Bottom; abounding in fine ſtreams and ſprings; above 80 acres on the bank of the river may be watered at pleaſure. It is capable of being divided into Lots of 100 acres, with water in each, which renders it peculiarly convenient for grazing or culture. Its ſituation for Health or elegant improvement is not to be ſurpaſſed in any inland country, and if deemed too large for one Farm, may be divided into two or three ſmaller ones, uniting in common advantages.—There is now erected on the Eſtate a good Merchant-Mill, with two pair of ſtones (on a large limeſtone ſpring) that rents for 466 dollars per ann. and on another never failing-ſpring a good Saw Mill, with a flutter wheel; there is plenty of pine timber in the neighboring mountain, and a ſtream ſufficient for another Mill with four pair of ſtones—theſe are adjacent to or immediately on the banks of the river, the navigation whereof is about being opened into the Potomak and for more than 100 miles above the mills. The other improvements on the Eſtate are a new commodious Barn, the loft of which is capable of containing 1500 buſhels; the threſhing-floor is 42 feet ſquare, well planked; another (double) Log Barn, with ſheds all around; a Diſtillery, with three large Stills, and a Granary above that will contain 500 buſhels, well covered with ſhingles, and a ſtream of water, conducted by troughs, running thro' it; at a ſmall diſtance is a large Cow-Houſe and Stable, with ſtalls for 22 cows, paved with ſtone in the European manner, with room for above 40 waggon loads of hay; a little further is a ſtrong ſtone-walled Spring-Houſe, completely fitted for a Dairy.——The whole of theſe Mills and Buildings are at a proper diſtance from each other, and from the Dwelling, which conſiſts of three commodious Frame-Buildings, with the neceſſary conveniencies. A well enclоſed Garden of the fineſt ſoil, with a ſtream of water running thro' it; two large Apple Orchards; ſeveral good Quarries for building and lime ſtone; a number of Out-Houſes for Managers, Blackſmith, Cooper, and lodgings for Men of Colour;—add greatly to the conveniencies and value of this Eſtate.

The Purchaſer, on paying one half the price agreed for, may be accommodated with a conſiderable credit for the remainder, and with the Cattle, Horſes, Waggons, Farming Utenſils, and Furniture, at a reaſonable valuation. For other particulars, application may be made to the ſubſcriber on the Eſtate, to Thomas Fitzſimons in Philadelphia, or Matthias Slough, Lancaſter.

CONGRESS.

At 12 o'clock this day, the Senate in a body, waited on the Preſident of the United States at his houſe, when the Vice-Preſident preſented the following addreſs in anſwer to his ſpeech to both Houſes at the opening of the ſeſſion—

WE thank you, ſir, for your faithful and detailed expoſure of the exiſting ſituation of our country; and we ſincerely join in ſentiments of gratitude to an overruling Providence, for the diſtinguiſhed ſhare of public proſperity, and private happineſs, which the people of the United States ſo peculiarly enjoy.

We are fully ſenſible of the advantages that have reſulted from the adoption of meaſures (which you have ſucceſsfully carried into effect) to preſerve peace, cultivate friendſhip, and promote civilization, amongſt the Indian tribes, on the weſtern frontiers;—feelings of humanity, and the moſt ſolid political intereſts, equally encourage the continuance of this ſyſtem.

We obſerve with pleaſure, that the delivery of the military poſts, lately occupied by the Britiſh forces, within the territory of the United States, was made with cordiality, and promptitude, as ſoon as circumſtances would admit; and that the other proviſions of our treaties with Great-Britain and Spain, that were objects of eventual arrangement, are about being carried into effect, with entire harmony and good faith.

The unfortunate, but unavoidable difficulties, that oppoſed a timely compliance with the terms of the Algerine treaty, are much to be lamented: as they may occaſion a temporary ſuſpenſion of the advantages to be derived, from a ſolid peace with that power, and a perfect ſecurity from its predatory warfare; at the ſame time, the lively impreſſions that affected the public mind, on the redemption of our captive fellow-citizens, afford the moſt laudable incentive to our exertions, to remove the remaining obſtacles.

We perfectly coincide with you in opinion that the importance of our commerce demands a naval force for its protection againſt foreign inſult and depredation, and our ſolicitude to attain that object will be always proportionate to its magnitude.

The neceſſity of accelerating the eſtabliſhment of certain uſeful manufactures, by the intervention of legiſlative aid and protection, and the encouragement due to agriculture, by the creation of boards, (compoſed of intelligent individuals) to patroniſe this primary purſuit of ſociety, are ſubjects which will readily engage our moſt ſerious attention.

A national univerſity may be converted to the moſt uſeful purpoſes—The ſcience of legiſlation, being ſo eſſentially dependant on the endowments of the mind, the public intereſts muſt receive effectual aid from the general diffuſion of knowledge; and the United States will aſſume a more dignified ſtation, among the nations of the earth, by the ſucceſsful cultivation of the higher branches of literature.
